MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Dulles

SUBJECT : Conversation with John W. Hanes, Jr., Regarding Banking Facilities at the New Building

1. This memorandum is for information only.
2. John W. Hanes, Jr., telephoned today to inquire whether we might have changed our views about banking facilities at the new building. He is a very active Director of the Fairfax County National Bank and has talked to us from time to time for several years about having a branch of his bank in our building. I told John that there had been no change in our previous decision that we would not have a banking office on the premises and would rely on our Credit Union to provide check cashing facilities for our employees.
3. John repeated his previous suggestion that they would be willing to install a small bank inside the building at their own expense or would construct an outside office on the property. He also feels that Fairfax County National might offer the Agency some special facilities since they are a small, compact, and, as he described it, "clearable" group of officers and directors. I assured him that we are not considering any other bank and overlooking his institution, which seemed to relieve his mind.
4. John said he might mention this to you at some time, which is my reason for recording the foregoing conversation.
